		contraindications, interactions, and adverse effects.
Textbook	Herbal Medicinals: A Clinician's Guide Edited By: LG Miller and WJ Murray	Includes case studies. Information is organized based upon organ or disease state affected.
Textbook	Natural Medicines Comprehensive Database By: Pharmacist's and Prescriber's Letter	Includes safety and efficacy ratings. Includes information concerning herbal effects on nutrient levels. Includes synonyms and scientific names for herbs. Herbs are organized by common name.
Textbook	PDR for Herbal Medicines	Includes an alphabetical index at the beginning of the book. Herbs are organized by common, scientific, and brand names. Includes an herb identification guide. Includes Commission E approved indications as well as unproven uses. Includes information concerning the natural habitat and description of the medicinal plant. Includes other herbs that are commonly used with each other.
Textbook	Rational Phytotherapy: A Physician's Guide to Herbal Medicine By: V Schulz, R. Hansel, and VE Tyler	Provides information concerning herbals and natural supplements that can be used for several common disorders. Includes historical information, a botanical description, physiochemical information, mechanism of action, as well as clinical trials support the drugs use. Includes pictures of the herbs, as well as figure concerning the mechanism of action.
Textbook	Stockley's Drug Interactions Edited by: Ivan H. Stockley	Contains very brief monographs. References are included after the end of each monograph. Chapters are arranged by therapeutic class interactions. Includes clinical trial evidence.
Textbook	Textbook of Adverse Drug Reactions Edited By: DM Davies	Provides information concerning the mechanism of adverse drug reactions. Chapters are arranged according to organ system and the reaction caused.
Textbook	The Pharmacist's Guide to Drug Eruptions and Interactions By: Jerome Z. Litt, MD	Only pertains to dermatological (skin, hair, nails, and mucous membranes) reactions Provides information concerning adverse effects and interactions of commonly used OTC and RX drugs
Textbook	The Review of Natural Products By: Facts and Comparisons	Includes toxicology information, as well as botanical information.
Textbook	Tyler's Herbs of Choice: The Therapeutic Use of Phytomedicinals By: JE Robbers and VE Tyler	Includes natural supplements and herbs that are commonly used to treat a variety of disorders, based upon the organ system affected. Information included is the history, physiochemical properties, mechanism of action, and clinical trials exhibiting the drugs benefit.
Textbook	Tyler's Honest Herbal: A Sensible Guide to the Use of and Related Remedies By: S Foster and VE Tyler	Includes natural supplements and herbs that are commonly. Information is organized alphabetically, based upon the herbs common name. Information included is the history, physiochemical properties, mechanism of action, and clinical trials exhibiting the drugs benefit.

Compounding
Textbook	Allen's Compounded Formulations By: Lloyd V. Allen Jr.	Includes recipes for commonly prepared compounded products.
Textbook	Ansel's Pharmaceutical Dosage Forms and Drug Delivery Systems By: LV Allen, NG Popovich, and HC Ansel	Includes chapter at a glance at the beginning of the book. This book doesn't provide specific compounding information, but does provide the basics as it pertains to compounding. Includes information about the history of pharmacy, drug standards and regulation. Includes selected information about Good Compounding Practices and laws concerning compounding. Includes detailed pharmaceutical calculations.
Textbook	Millennial Compounding Compendium: Official Formulations of the International Journal of Pharmaceutical Compounding	Includes recipes of compounded formulations. Formulations are organized based upon dosage form.
Textbook	2001 Ophthalmic Drug Facts By: Facts and Comparisons	Provides basic precautions for preparing extemporaneous ophthalmic preparations.
Textbook	The Art, Science, and Technology of Pharmaceutical Compounding By: Loyd V. Allen Jr. PhD	Includes information pertaining to guidelines, record keeping, calculations, and dosage forms. Includes information pertaining to veterinarian pharmaceutical compounding.
Textbook	Trissel's Stability of Compounded Formulations By: Lawrence A. Trissel	Includes solubility, pH, pK _a , general stability considerations, commercial availability, and stability reports of products in compounded formulations. Products are arranged alphabetically by generic name.

Textbook	Cancer: Principles & Practice of Oncology By: VT Devita, S Hellman, SA Roseberg	Provides information concerning molecular biology, signal transduction, etiology, pharmacology, and general principles of oncology information, as well as cancer prevention and screening information
Textbook	Color Atlas and Synopsis of Clinical Dermatology By: TB Fitzpatrick, RA Johnson, K Wolff, MK Polano, and D Suurmond	Provides epidemiology and etiology, history, physical examination findings, differential diagnosis, and laboratory and special examinations, as well as color photographs of various dermatological disorders
Textbook	Concepts in Oncology Therapeutics By: RS Finley and C Balmer	Includes information concerning the cell cycle, nutritional support, complications, as well as management, and toxicity, and pharmacology
Textbook	Conn's Current Therapy By: Rake & Bope	Provides physician recommendations from around the world. Provides anatomy, pathophysiology, etiology, assessment, and treatment.
Textbook	Critical Care By: JM Civetta, RW Taylor, and RR Kirby	Provides information concerning practice settings, collaborative care, organ transplant information, how to read medical articles. Includes anatomy and pathophysiology information, and patient evaluation.
Textbook	Current Psychotherapeutic Drugs By: FM Quitkin, DC Adams, CL Bowden, EJ Heyer, A Rifkin, EM Sellers, R Tandon, and BP Taylor	Includes off-labeled indications. Provides monographs of anti-psychotics, anti-depressants, stimulants, antimanics, anxiolytics, and stimulants
Textbook	Emergency Medicine: A Comprehensive Study Guide By: JE Tintinalli, GD Kelen, JS Stapczynski	Provides information on commonly seen disorders in the emergency medicine, including shock, resuscitation, bioterrorism, and renal disorders.
Textbook	Essentials of Pathophysiology: Concepts and Applications for Health Care Professionals By: Nowak and Handford	Includes anatomy and pathophysiology of diseases, diagnosis, and transplantation information
Textbook	Goodman & Gilman's: The Pharmacological Basis of Therapeutics Edited by: JG Hardman and LE Limbird	Includes anatomy and physiology information, historical disease information, and pharmacology.
Textbook	Handbook of Nutritional Support	Provides information concerning parenteral nutrition. Provides information concerning laboratory testing, ideal body weight, how to write a parenteral nutrition order, and enteral feeding information.
Textbook	Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine By: Braunwald, Fauci, Kasper, Hauser, Longo, and Jameson	Available as 2 volumes. Provides information concerning disease manifestation, pathophysiology, and treatment
Textbook	Heart Diseases: A Textbook of Cardiovascular Medicine By: Brauwald, Zipes, and Libby	Includes information concerning the physical examination of patients, economic impact of cardiovascular disease, information concerning various cardiovascular diseases, including the impact on other organ systems, how genetic information, as well as clinical trial information
Textbook	Improving Outcomes In Heart Failure: An Interdisciplinary Approach By: DK Moser and B Riegel	Provides information concerning heart failure including personal and societal impacts, nonpharmacological therapy, and surgical treatment options

Hampton University Drug Information Center Reference Index

Textbook	Manual of Clinical Psychopharmacology By: AF Schatzberg, JO Cole, and C Debattista	Includes information concerning legal, ethical and economical issues of psychopharmacology, information concerning diagnosis and classification of psychological disorders, as well as information concerning treatment. Includes information in special populations, including pregnancy, children, and geriatrics, and organ dysfunction. Includes DSM classifications and therapeutic drug levels.
Textbook	Melmon and Morrelli's Clinical Pharmacology By: SG Carruthers, BB Hoffman, KL Melmon, and DW Nierentberg	Includes pathophysiology, anatomy, and drug mechanism of actions, symptoms, patient evaluation, and therapeutic treatment, as well as nonpharmacological treatment.
Textbook	Oncology and Hematology 2000: An Internet Resource Guide	Provides internet hyperlinks to various websites with disease state management information, research institutes, associations, as well as government organizations.
Textbook	Pharmacotherapy: A Pathophysiologic Approach By: JT Dipiro, RL Talbert, GC Yee, GR Matzke, BG Wells, and LM Posey	Includes general principles concerning pharmacoeconomics, pharmacogenetics, and toxicology. Disease information is organized based upon organ system affected. Includes prevention, therapeutic treatment, epidemiology, etiology, and pathophysiology information.
Textbook	Principles of Surgery By: Swartz, Shires, Spencer, Daly, Fischer, Galloway	Includes information concerning various disease states.
Textbook	Textbook of Ocular Pharmacology Edited by: TJ Zimmerman, KS Kooner, M Sharir, RD Fechtner	Provides information concerning history, anesthesia, pediatric patients, general pharmacology, ethical issues, toxicology, as well as pharmacokinetic information
Textbook	Textbook of Psychopharmacology By: AF Schatzberg, CB Nemeroff	Provides information concerning molecular biology, signal transduction, pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics, clinical trial information, pharmacoeconomic information. Provides general drug treatment options for various psychological disorders and includes pathophysiology of psychological disorders.
Textbook	Textbook of Therapeutics: Drug and Disease Management Edited by: ET Herfindal and DR Gourley	Provides information as case studies. Provides information concerning pharmacogenomics, biotechnology and pharmacodynamics. Information is organized by organ system. Includes epidemiology, pathophysiology, clinical presentation and diagnosis, treatment, and prognosis.
Textbook	The CIBA Collection of Medical Illustrations: A Compilation of Paintings on the Normal and Pathologic Anatomy and Physiology, Embryology, and Diseases of the Heart Prepared by: FH Netter MD	Provides anatomy and pathophysiology of cardiac abnormalities as well as visual depictions.
Textbook	The Washington Manual of Medical Therapeutics Edited by: Department of Surgery at Washington University School of Medicine	Information provided includes diagnosis, clinical manifestations, evaluation, disease state monitoring, and therapeutic information.
Textbook	The Washington Manual of Surgery	Provides information concerning nutrition, life support, and electrolytes.

Hampton University Drug Information Center Reference Index

	Edited by: Department of Surgery at Washington University School of Medicine	Information provided includes epidemiology, pathology, evaluation, treatment, diagnosis, therapy, and goals of therapy.
Textbook	The Wills Eye Manual: Office and Emergency Room Diagnosis and Treatment of Eye Disease Edited by: DY Kunimoto, KD Kanitkar, MS Makar	Provides detailed information concerning ocular abnormalities. Provides several appendices including angle classification, dilating drops, and selected ophthalmology resources. Provides information concerning general ophthalmologic diseases, retina, orbit, and eyelid diseases.
